SHIRT FITS

REGULAR

shirts have a straight and somewhat wide cut. This fit is suitable for men with a larger figure. They generally have back darts and often also two folds laid into the yoke to enable more freedom of movement in the shoulder area. A finish can be applied between the two side folds, albeit with a slightly limited width.

MODERN FIT

shirts have a gently tailored waist and suit men with a regular figure. The tailored cut supports an athletic figure but is forgiving if the wearer has the beginnings of a belly.

SHAPED

shirts are intended for men with a narrow waist and wide shoulders. This type of fit has back darts to emphasise the waist and a wider shoulder cut to enable more freedom of movement.

SLIM

shirts are narrower in the torso section and often have additional back darts to emphasise the figure. This type of fit is for men with an athletic figure and no belly.

COLLARS

KENT COLLAR

This collar form is suitable for just about any occasion. It can be worn with or without a tie, and looks good with all kinds of knot. It is also ideal in combination with a bow-tie.

CUTAWAY COLLAR

The form of a cutaway collar resembles that of a shark's mouth. The collar points are further apart than with the Kent collar, which makes this type ideal for a tie with a wide knot or a jacket with a lower cut.

BUTTON-DOWN COLLAR

This is the most casual form of collar and is ideal for people who prefer wearing a shirt without a tie. The collar points are fixed in place by small buttons to ensure that they stay in place. There is also an under-button-down variant, in which the buttons are concealed beneath the collar.

STAND-UP COLLAR

This type of collar, also known as a mandarin collar, has no wings. Neither a tie nor a bow-tie can be worn with a stand-up collar.

COLLAR STIFFENERS

These are small stays that are incorporated in the points of the collar to ensure that it keeps its shape. Some collar stays are permanently sewn into the collar. These support the application of embroidery, should such a finish be desired. However, it is important to check the compatibility of the envisaged motif or logo.

MATERIALS

POPELINE

This is a light and versatile fabric with a high density that makes it very resilient.

TWILL

A twill weave results in a soft, flowing fabric with a diagonal rib pattern. White shirts made of twill material are generally more opaque than popelin shirts. They are often preferred when no jacket is worn over the shirt.

FIL Á FIL

A plain weave that is popular with shirts and is highly durable. It is woven with coloured threads to create a lightly speckled effect that can be employed to create interesting accentuations.

OXFORD

Oxford is soft but strong, with a strongly textured appearance. The plain weave cotton fabric makes the shirt highly durable despite being soft. Its characteristic coloration stems from the mixture of coloured and white yarns in the warp and weft.

DENIM

A robust cotton fabric that is not only used to make jeans but is also suitable for shirts and jackets. The warp yarn is dyed an indigo colour, while B23 the weft thread remains white. It is this that gives the fabric its characteristic blue coloration.

FLANEL

A loose, light fabric that is pleasantly soft and warm to the touch. It is, however, at the same time very robust. Flannel is commonly used to make sports shirts, very often in combination

CUFFS

BARREL CUFF

This is the standard form of shirt cuff. It usually has a single button. With shirts of finer quality there may also be a second button to enable the width of the cuff to be adjusted.

ADJUSTABLE-WIDTH CUFF

This is one of the most popular types of cuff. The edge can be straight, angular or round. The adjustable-width cuff is made of dual-layered fabric and has the advantage that it can be worn with cufflinks.

DOUBLE CUFF

Double cuffs or French cuffs are the most classic and elegant form of cuff. They consist of a double layer of fabric that is folded back to the wrist and closed with cufflinks.

INDICATIONS

A Word about Printing on Your Textiles

Please note, that in garments whose washing and care instructions indicate a higher laundry temperature than 40° C, this information is rendered invalid once the garment has been printed on. We generally advise you to wash your printed textiles at no temperature above 40° C so as not to affect the quality of the printing.

Color Designations, Sizes and Laundry Properties

Color designations and sizes that appear in this catalog are not regulated by any industry standards. This can mean e.g. that a T-shirt in size XL made by manufacturer A can have quite different measurements than a T-shirt in size XL made by manufacturer B. Even within the same brand, different articles (e.g. polo shirts and T-shirts) can have different measurements although they are identified by the same size. Especially the so-called Slim-Fit/Body- Fit Shirts may diverge in size from the unisex articles of the same brand. Similar rules apply to shirts for women and men of the same manufacturer. It goes without saying that women's shirts are cut in a different style than the respective men's shirts although their size designations may be completely identical. Color designations are often not really informative. This already starts with the name itself. But even with color names about which most consumers have an image in their mind, there are often divergencies. Royal Blue or Apple Green are colors that conjure up different pictures in different people's minds. There simply is no binding industry standard for colors. So it may happen that the same color designation may look completely different from one product to the next between different brands or even between different articles of the same brand. Unfortunately, this issue cannot be solved by the color bars printed here in this catalog. Each printed color bar will appear differently depending on the ambient light source, and textile colors cannot be rendered 100% truly when printed on paper. So before you order a larger quantity of textiles and especially before you start printing or embroidering them, we encourage you to order a sample item. We cannot accept any complaints due to subjective expectations of sizes or colors. We'd like to draw your attention to one further important point that cannot be stressed enough: each textile article made from cotton or a cotton and polyester mix fabric needs to be laundered before it is put on and worn for the first time. Due to the chemical residues on textiles (although completely harmless and safe in themselves) it may otherwise happen that when the textiles are worn without having been laundered before, especially under the influence of ultraviolet rays, a chemical reaction between the residues and the body's perspiration takes place, affecting or even impairing the color of the garment. These color changes will persist and cannot be remedied by later laundering. Please note that claims or complaints in this matter cannot be accepted.

Information about battery disposal

In connection with the sale of batteries or the delivery of equipment that contains batteries, we are obliged to draw your attention to the following. You are legally required as an end user to return used batteries. You can hand in old batteries, which we stock or have stocked as new batteries in our range, at our warehouse (address) or mail them back to us free of charge. Alternatively we suggest you use the public collection points that have been set up in your neighbourhood. The symbols shown on batteries have the following meanings. The crossed out rubbish bin symbol means you must not put the battery in household waste.

Pb = Battery contains more than 0.004 per cent lead

Cd = Battery contains more than 0.002 per cent cadmium

Hg = Battery contains more than 0.0005 per cent mercury.

Please observe the information provided above.

Underwear may never be returned or exchanged.

Unpacked shirts/blouses may not be exchanged or returned.
