

A row of several large rolls of glossy, colorful transfer film. The rolls are arranged diagonally from the top left to the bottom right. The colors transition from dark blue at the top, through purple, magenta, red, and orange to a bright yellow at the bottom. The surface of the film is highly reflective, showing bright highlights. The rolls are stacked closely together, and the edges of the film layers are visible at the ends of the rolls.

TRANSFER FILMS